

DAPHNE BLEACH

SOUL MIDWIFE

SPECIALISING IN END-OF-LIFE CARE

Jenny's Testimonial

Daphne visited our mother Joan for the last five months of her life.

She sat with her, talked with her, offered her gentle touch, played music to her, and very simply but profoundly, cared deeply for her.

As soon as I spoke with Daphne and agreed she would be a soul midwife with mum, I felt a huge sense of relief. I could tell that she was going to offer a rare combination of attuned companionship and respectful advocacy.

Daphne combined her professional experience of hospice and nursing work with a depth of personal humanity in the way she related with mum and communicated with us as a family.

There were times when she suggested we communicated with the care staff and times where she encouraged us to face the reality of where mum was at in her journey.

As mum entered the end-of-life stage more fully Daphne was invaluable to us. She turned her attention to us as a family as well as to mum, and all of us appreciated her clear and kind care and her down to earth yet sensitive approach.

I highly recommend Daphne as a soul midwife, she is unique in her experience, gracious in her approach, and an entirely safe pair of hands to entrust your relatives to.
